63rd Session Shows Capacity Enrollment

St. Andrew's Lutheran Church was filled nearly to capacity when Dr. Voigt R. Cromer, president of Lenoir Rhyne, addressed the student body at the formal opening of the college.

Welcoming the students at this sixty-third session of the college, President Cromer, in his address listed three goals that should be those of every student: "Sound Learning—the ability to sift half-truths from truths, nobleness from cheapness, and good from bad."

Mr. James C. Barker, member of the Hickory City Council, presented greetings from the mayor, and the citizens of Hickory. The Rev. Albert A. Young, president of the Hickory Ministerial Association and pastor of the Viewmont Baptist Church brought official welcome from the churches of Hickory. Robert Troutman, student body president, welcomed both old and new students to the campus.

The total enrollment for the current school year at Lenoir Rhyne College totals 820 according to a recent announcement by Dr. Voigt R. Cromer, president, an increase of nine over September 1952, and sixty-two higher than the enrollment of 758 for the second semester of the last regular session.

A class breakdown this year shows: freshmen, 269; sophomores, 188; juniors, 133; seniors, 147; one year business students 37; Saturday school students, 27; and nineteen special students, making a total of 820, with 463 men and 357 women comprising the present Student Body.

Among the total registered are 107 veterans. This includes twenty world war II veterans and eighty-seven veterans of the Korean War. This same number was registered in 1952.

Many dormitory students could not be accepted because of a lack of housing facilities on the campus and in Hickory.

Five New Professors Assumed Duties This Fall

Five new professors were added to this years Lenoir Rhyne faculty staff. Those departments being affected were the English and dramatics, foreign languages, economics, business education, and athletic departments.

Bradford M. Arrington of Greenville, South Carolina was advanced as instructor in the English department with a bachelor of Arts degree. During the past summer he was associated with the production staff of "Unto These Hills" in Cherokee, North Carolina. Professor Arrington replaces Mrs. Pearl S. Deal.

Professor John H. Grier, assistant professor of Spanish and French at Lenoir Rhyne in 1951 has returned after a years absence which was spent doing post graduate work at the University of Virginia. While in Virginia, Professor Grier was replaced temporarily by Professor Glenn Hudson of Hickory.

Edsel E. Hoyle, Lenoir Rhyne graduate of 1949, was appointed an instructor in the Business Education Department. After receiving his bachelor of Arts degree at Lenoir Rhyne College the local instructor attended the University of South Carolina, where he was awarded his master's degree.

William D. Crapps of Leesville, South Carolina, was appointed to the Economics Department to replace Professor Russell Brown who has been granted a leave of absence to complete studies for the doctorate at the University of Chicago. Professor Crapps was awarded both his bachelor of science and master of science degrees at Clemson College in 1947 and 1952 respectively.

Mac Erwin, former Davidson Football star, was appointed assistant football and head baseball coach at Lenoir Rhyne replacing Troy Washam who recently resigned the position. Mr. Erwin a Greenville, South Carolina native, in addition to his coaching duties is teaching several classes in physical education.

TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

OPERATION SANTA CLAUS

"OUR CAMPUS OPENS UP ITS HEART"

Santa's pack will be bulging, and needy, underprivileged children in this area are going to have a Merry Christmas because of the humane project undertaken by the students of Lenoir Rhyne.

Beginning shortly after homecoming weekend, the student body sponsored workshop in the first large scale operation of this nature ever to be undertaken in this area, and the Toy Workshop has been the focal point for all such endeavors in this section for the coming Yule-tide season.

The function of the workshop is just what the name implies—to repair and repaint used toys. Students are contributing part of their spare time to repair and repaint old toys, to design and make doll clothes, and to be "Santa's helpers in general."

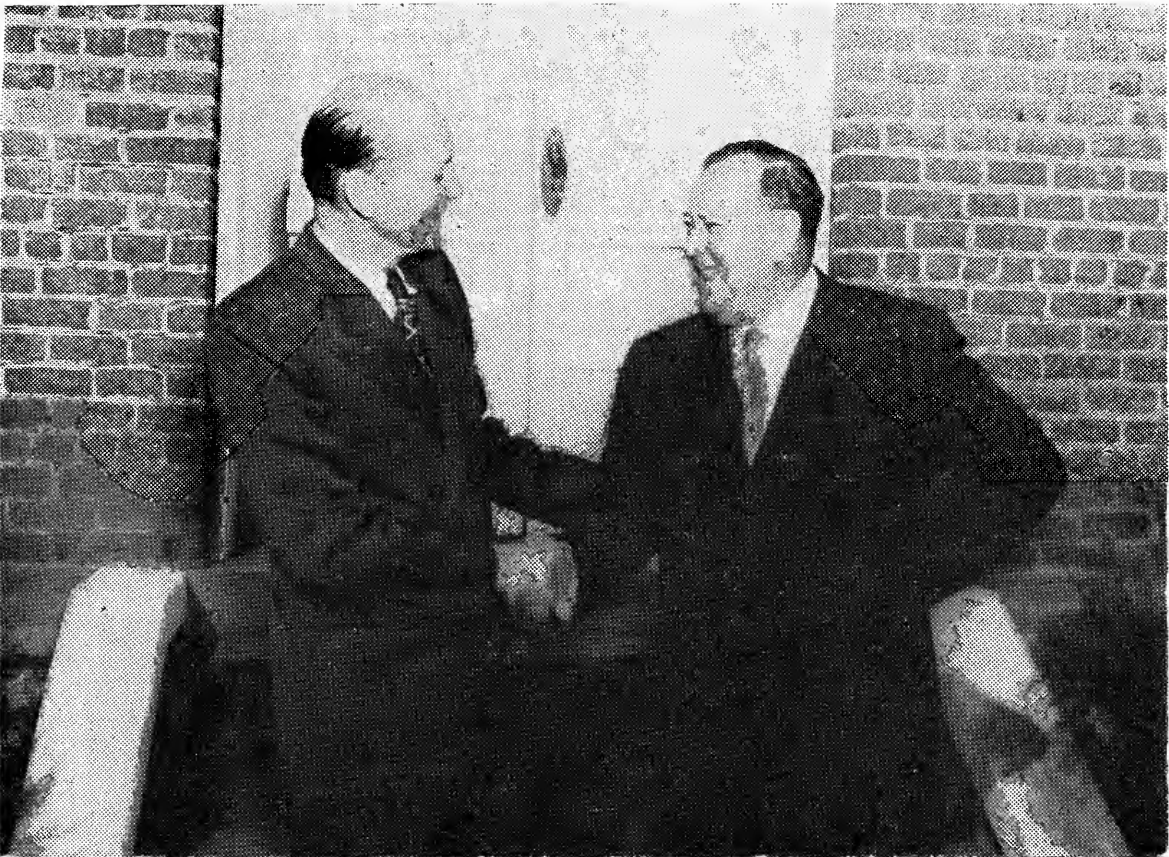

Materials for the project were contributed by Hickory merchants and other interested citizens who have recognized the worthiness of such an undertaking. A committee of students were appointed by the president of the student body to work out the final details for the Toy Workshop.

The climax of the Toy Workshop project was a Christmas Rally, which was called the Toy Rally. At that time, the toys were turned over to the Welfare Department of Catawba County for distribution to the needy and underprivileged children.

The Toy Workshop reflected the spirit of Lenoir Rhyne as a Christian college, and the success of the workshop shows that the spirit of the students are in keeping with the criteria of the college.

"Santa's Helper"—Paul Lutz, a Lenoir Rhyne College Sophomore, is shown collecting toys from two children in Hickory for the Santa Claus Workshop at Lenoir Rhyne. Lutz was just one of the many students going from door to door collecting toys from the citizens of Hickory. After the students collected the toys they were repaired and repainted for underprivileged children in Catawba County.

Former Secretary General of the United Nations, Trygve Lie of Norway received a goodbye handshake from President of Lenoir Rhyne College, Voigt R. Cromer, after the famed U N pioneer addressed the students and faculty. Mr. Lie related many of his disappointments and heartbreaks and challenges while serving as Secretary General.

ELEVEN SELECTED FOR "WHO'S WHO"

Eleven Lenoir Rhyne college students have been selected for the annual "Who's Who" honors this year, it was announced recently by President Voigt R. Cromer.

Students receiving the honor will have their biographies printed in the 1954 edition of the national publication, "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" and also awarded certificates in Class Day exercises next spring.

The students are Miss Peggy Henry of Salisbury, Harold Watson of Hickory, Miss Janice Clodfelter of Statesville, Bill Shuford of Hickory, David Gorsline of Williamston, Michigan; Miss Alice Setzler of Hickory, Bob Troutman of Statesville, H. G. Fisher, Jr., of Spartanburg, S. C., Terry Agner of Spencer, Douglas Caston of Mt. Pleasant, and Ross Ritchie, Jr., of Konnarock, Virginia.

Listed below are some of the current activities of the honorees. These are not the only offices held by the individuals, nor do they necessarily constitute the basis on which the students were selected to receive the Who's Who award.

CHRISTIAN CAREER CONFERENCE HELD

A Christian Career Conference was held on the local campus October 5-7, for the purpose of guiding the students in the selection of their life's work and impressing upon them the importance of the Christian emphasis regardless of the vocation chosen.

Conference speakers were the Rev. Robert E. Van Deusen, Washington Secretary of the Division of Public Relations for the National Lutheran Council, whose interest lies in government, international affairs, public relations and journalism; The Rev. Vernon L. Stempke, who is a member of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church of America, and has major interest in the field of ministry and higher education; Miss Virginia Aderholdt, music teacher and missionary to Japan, whose major work deals with mission work, music, and elementary education; and Miss Mildred E. Winston, Litt. D., and Secretary of the Board of Education of the U. L. C. A., whose interest lies in summer service projects, social and parish work, the diaconate, and nursing.

Dr. H. R. Greenholt of the local faculty served as moderator for the panel discus-

1953 HOMECOMING BIG SUCCESS

Many Alumni Return To Campus For Festivities

The crowning of lovely homecoming queen Wanda "Bunny" Boring was just one of the many attractions on Saturday, October 17, when Lenoir Rhyne College threw open the doors for the annual trek of alumni back to the campus.

The homecoming parade, always one of the biggest events of the year for both the city of Hickory and Lenoir Rhyne, began winding its way slowly through town at 2:30 and then circled back to the campus. Forty units were in the giant parade, including floats, banners, visiting and local bands.

Top attractions of the floats, of course were a bevy of beautiful lasses garbed in everything from long flowing evening gowns to animated characters. Bathing suits and shorts, long a parade favorite, also made their yearly appearance. A few puns aimed at the visiting Guilford Quakers were prominent when the caravan-type units began threading through Hickory.

The fact that the floats were judged carefully for beauty, originality, and ingenuity was just one of the many reasons that students worked late on Friday night and Saturday morning for the keen competition. This year's winners was the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity with the Senior Class following in second place. Miss Homecoming occupied a sleek convertible for the annual Lenoir Rhyne coming out frolics.

Bands from Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory High, and Kings Mountain High Schools and Hickory Junior High School marched and provided music for the colorful ceremonies.

Later in the afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 the annual alumni barbecue was held on the north campus. As in previous years local Hickory merchants presented a variety of gifts for door prizes. Dr. Voigt R. Cromer, Lenoir Rhyne President, and several alumni members made short addresses during the course of the meal. Over 200 alumni and their families enjoyed the fellowship and meal.

Thirty minutes prior to the game between the Bears and the Guilford Quakers, Miss Wanda Boring, a Junior from Crouse, N. C. was crowned in ceremonies on the college field.

Sponsors and escorts for the Homecoming celebration were Student Body Officers; Robert Troutman, President, of Statesville, sponsoring Miss Margaret Lineberger of Dallas; Don Woolly, vice-president, of Albemarle, sponsoring Miss Sybil

These two floats were part of the gala Homecoming parade staged for the Alumni and friends of Lenoir Rhyne College. The Loyalty Fund float above, was sponsored by the Alumni and was a non competitive float. Below is the float of the Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity which won first place on the basis of beauty, originality, and over all appearance. There were 40 units in this Homecoming parade, the largest in the history of the college.

1952 Champs In Process of Rebuilding

Despite a rocky start of four consecutive losses, the never-say-die Lenoir Rhyne Bears were able to salvage a successful football season. Had the Bears been able to educate the wild Indians from Catawba they would have been able to end festivities with second place in tow. The 14-0 Turkey event sent the locals into a deadlock with Appalachian for third place.

An apparently defunct grid squad made a comeback commendable of a former title holder just when things looked the darkest. In fact the comeback was so marked that local sports writers immediately tabbed the Bear aggregation as the most improved team of the conference. It all goes to prove that student spirit has a great deal to do with the football results.

The comeback boys got on the gravy train after their four defeats by knocking off a favored Guilford Quaker squad. The overnight transition saw the Bears literally rip the visitors to pieces by a 25-14 count. The Red and Black eleven was headed once by the Quakers but wouldn't be denied when the chips were down. Bob Henry picked up a blocked punt and raced for a score while "Bullet Bill Eanes" rifle-armed three passes for counters to HEAD FOOTBALL COACH Clarence Stasavich showed this season that he can take green material, and make it into a winner. Operating on the theory that winning teams are built by hard work the Bruin brain stirred his grid machine from the cellar into a tie for third place in North State Conference standings.

IN MEMORIAM

Gloom descended upon the sports world November 6, with the passing of famed sportscaster and WBT television announcer Lee Kirby. A recipient of many nation wide awards for his outstanding play-by-play descriptions, Mr. Kirby had been calling the games on the Lenoir Rhyne Sports Network since the 1952 football season. Previous to assuming the Lenoir Rhyne post the nationally known figure had broadcast the Duke University football games for 15 years.

For the underprivileged and bed-ridden the late Mr. Kirby's stirring broadcasts of top football games were surely a great comfort and service. Among the many awards collected for his sports commentaries, foremost was the presentation of the Ayer Award for colorful and accurate sportscasting.

Services were held on Sunday, November 8, at Meyers Park Baptist Church in Charlotte with Dr. George Heaton conducting the service. Interment followed in Sharon Memorial Park.

noir Rhyne has ever fielded. His tossing record speaks for itself. Against Guilford he heaved 15 passes, 11 of which were completed. Three of the completions were good for tallies. Pass catchers Bob Henry and Henry Smith complete the Eanes combination.

Last squad to fall victim to the Lenoir Rhyne rumbling was the Elon Christian squad, who felt the Bruin's heavy hand by the tune of 27-13. Eanes upped his season scoring total to 56 points to make him one of the conference leaders.

In the annual classic with their Catawba rivals, the Bruin attack faltered and fell apart during numerous scoring opportunities. As one loyal supporter said, "It seemed like a night mare . . ." It has been three years since the Redskins had tasted victory and their 16th since first engaging Lenoir Rhyne in 1907. The Bruins hold 12 victories and four contests ended in a deadlock.

With the Quakers aside, the giant killers edged by Western Carolina by virtue of the extra points that Eanes sent whizzing through the uprights. Stasavich said his eleven had reached their best form of the season in this encounter. Favored Emory and Henry was next to feel the Bruin wrath in the annual Phythian Bowl contest for orphaned children. Eanes again spark-plugged the locals to an impressive 21-7 victory.

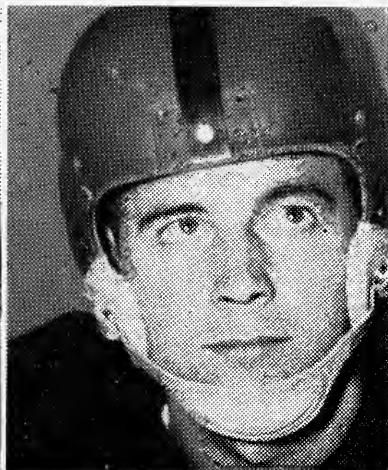

By the time "Bullet" Bill, a former Duke understudy to Billy Cox, had racked in 47 points of his own, while his sizzling clothes-line passes had accounted for a bevy of others. Coach Stasavich says that Eanes is one of the best passers that Le-

Philadelphia and New York Area Alumni Meet

A Lenoir Rhyne Dinner for alumni and former students of the New York-Philadelphia area was held in Philadelphia, at the Y. M. C. A., at 7:30 on November 12. The meeting came, primarily, as the result of spontaneous interest and effort on the part of several alumni in the area, with Reverend John W. Cobb, '36, taking the lead in making arrangements.

President Voigt R. Cromer was present for the meeting and made an informal talk, which was followed by round table discussion in which many questions were asked and answered concerning recent developments and progress at the college.

Each person present made a few remarks with regard to his activities and connections since leaving Lenoir Rhyne College.

The entire meeting was characterized by informality and enthusiasm, and there was unanimous expression of desire for such gatherings to be held in the area, either in Philadelphia or New York, annually. Rev. Cobb was designated as the convener for the next meeting.

Music for the meeting was provided by recordings of the Lenoir Rhyne Choir.

The following alumni and former students were present for the dinner meeting: Newell E. Rollins, Rev. Arthur L. Hahn, Rev. John Mangum, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ray Overcash, Dr. C. K. Lippard, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Conrad, Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, Miss Eleanor Carolyn Busch, Howard Evans, Mrs. George Harkins, George M. Chapman, and Rev. John W. Cobb. Additional guests were Mrs. Arthur L. Hahn, formerly of the Lenoir Rhyne music faculty, Mrs. John Mangum, Rev. George Harkins, and Mrs. John W. Cobb.

ADDITIONAL CAMPUS NEWS

Freshman Tea

President and Mrs. Voigt R. Cromer and the Lenoir Rhyne Woman's Club were host to the new students on Thursday afternoon, September 18, at the president's home in Combford Park from 3:30 until 5:30.

The home was decorated throughout with lovely flower arrangements. Decorated cakes, green and white brick ice cream, salted nuts and punch were served. The receiving line was composed of President and Mrs. Cromer, Mrs. Jim Hamilton, and Miss Thelma Rast, the latter three being officers of the college Woman's Club.

Those assisting were Professor and Mrs. R. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sox, Miss Mary Newton, Mrs. Paul Reichle, Mrs. Craig Yoder, Mrs. W. P. Brandon, Mrs. Beulah Frady, Mrs. P. W. Deaton, Mrs. R. R. Ullman, Mrs. Clarence Stasach, Mrs. Albert Keiser, Mrs. Norman E. Hodson, Mrs. George Bowden, Miss Minnie Eeden, Mrs. W. T. Nau, Miss Hattie Fowler, Mrs. M. L. Stirewalt, Mrs. G. W. McCreary, Misses Helen Stahler, Ruth Blackwelder, Gladys Barger, Mrs. Earl L. Aiken, Misses Opal Wike, Margaret Ridenhour, Ellena Bright, Elizabeth Cromer, Connie Patterson, Alice Setzler, and Imogene Paige.

Editorial Winner

Miss Janice Clodfelter of Route 3, Statesville, N. C. has been awarded fourth prize in the National Editorial Writing Contest of 1952-53.

Miss Clodfelter is a senior at Lenoir Rhyne College, and is majoring in English. Her article was one of the 676 papers submitted by students representing 62 colleges and universities of the United States and Canada.

The essay entitled "Social Stagnation," was chosen along with three others from Lenoir Rhyne to be entered in the National Editorial contest. In the preliminary judging last spring, Miss Clodfelter was the recipient of a ten dollar prize. The final judging took place in July at Alcohol Institute, Westerville, Ohio, where she won fifty dollars, fourth prize.

A regular feature writer for the Lenoir Rhynean, Miss Clodfelter stated in her article that problems create social drinking. "Tensions of a racing culture, always battling against time and competition, demand realization of some kind. Alcohol fills, at least temporarily, the need."

In conclusion, she remarked: "As social drinking frequently replaces social thinking in our culture, it becomes a bad seed which either prevents growth or produces malformed specimens. It becomes a seed from which we may reap stagnation."

Frat Sponsors

Four lovely co-eds have been selected as fraternity sponsors for the school year 1953-54. Sigma Phi Epsilon, Gamma Beta Chi, Kappa Sigma Kappa, and Eta Delta Zeta social fraternities elected these beauties in recent meetings on the campus. Sigma Phi Epsilon chose Miss Libby Huffman of Hickory, N. C. Miss Huffman is a graduate of St. Mary's school in Raleigh, where she served as Chief Marshall. While attending St. Mary's she was a member of the May Court and the Circle, an honorary leadership society. In 1951 Miss Huffman was elected Miss Hickory High. She is a member of the Sphinx Sorority.

Miss Margaret Lineberger, Miss Gamma Beta Chi, is a Sophomore from Dallas, N. C., who has been active in student organizations. She is a member of the Philias Sorority, the YWCA, and the ACE. During her freshman year Miss Lineberger was a member of the Cabinet, secretary of the freshman class, and a May Court Attendant.

The Kappa Sigma Kappa sponsor, Miss Sara Koontz, is a Senior from Lexington, N. C. The primary education major is a member of the Sphinx sorority, the Association for Childhood Education, the Woman's Athletic Association, the tumbling team, and the band.

Miss Jo Anne Hall, a Senior from Salisbury, N. C., is in reality serving a "second term" since she was Miss Eta Delta Zeta last year. Miss Hall is a Cheerleader, a member of the a capella choir, the Les Amies Sorority, and the Mauney Hall Commission.

Willard Scholarship

Thomas Scott, of Charlotte, a Lenoir Rhyne Senior was named the recipient of the Cecil Young Willard Scholarship which is awarded to the outstanding pre-medical student of the junior or senior class, selected on the basis of "Character, Scholarship, Aptitude, and purpose."

A candidate for the B. S. degree with a major in chemistry and biology, Scott expects to enter a North Carolina medical school following graduation. While attending Lenoir Rhyne, he has become a member of the Mathematics and Science clubs and the Chi Beta Phi honorary science fraternity. Also he is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. Scott served as president and vice-president of the Mathematics Club, and treasurer of the Science Club. Currently he is historian of Chi Beta Phi.

The Cecil Young Willard Scholarship fund was "established by Josiah J. Willard in memory of his wife, Mrs. Cecil Young Willard." The income from the fund is used as the scholarship.

BEARS END SEASON IN 3rd SPOT

Lenoir Rhyne's hardwood artists have been hard at work for the past few weeks bringing their basketball power into shape for what looks like another big season. Coach Pappy Hamilton says the boys are much better and stronger than last year when the Bruins had to settle for a 9-7 record and a tie for fourth place with High Point College.

A number of new freshmen will be in the starting lineup as things are now running to compliment lettermen Rollo Barker, Joe Buff, Frank Hassell and Bob Ortmyer. Rollo, high scorer for last year's hoopsters, has been elected captain of the quintet and expected to measure up to his past performances.

sions held on Monday and Tuesday.

The first meeting of the three day conference was on Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Lutheran Students Association in the college church. Following the Lutheran Students meeting, the evening service was held in the church with Rev. Van Deusen as speaker. On Monday the speakers made individual classroom appearances followed with an address by the Rev. Van Deusen during the regular chapel period.

On Tuesday and Wednesday mornings the same schedule was followed with Miss Aderholdt and Rev. Stempke acting as chapel speakers respectively.
